

Nominate NOW in the Countryside Alliance Awards 2017

We have received over 1500 nominations for the 'Rural Oscars' and you still have time to honour your favourite rural business.

Nominated by you, the Awards recognise and honour those who routinely go the extra mile for their community, reflect the spirit of rural people and their desire to protect our landscapes and communities for future generations.

Nominate now by choosing a category below:

LOCAL FOOD & DRINK

VILLAGE SHOP OR POST OFFICE

BUTCHER

RURAL ENTERPRISE

Champions are chosen by a panel which is chaired by Countryside Alliance Chief Executive Tim Bonner and also includes the Daily Telegraph's Philip Johnston, the Farmers Guardian's Emma Penny, Peter Gott of Sillfield Farm and William Sitwell, Waitrose Food Editor, MasterChef critic and award-winning author.

The benefits these awards afford cannot be overestimated, and those who have won have told us of the positive impact their recognition has had on everyone they know as well as bringing a boost to their business.

We hope you put your rural businesses on the map by nominating them today!
Nominations close on 13 November 2017.
